

Let's talk rubbish!

That's right – we will be at the Gore A&P Show on Saturday 4 February, and want to talk rubbish with you. Or, more specifically, we want to talk about how we can rethink the way we deal with it.

Our waste minimization guru Dr Niki Bould will be there to talk about removing organic waste, such as food scraps, from the waste system (among other things).

Kerbside recycling is another hot topic. We're currently looking at reintroducing a kerbside recycling service and would love to hear what level of service you want and what you're prepared to pay for.

So, pop down to the show for a chinwag and go into the draw to win a Green Cone decomposer unit!
