Summary:	F45/12 was the site of the former Bank of Australasia (1885), demolished in 2020 to construct a new building at the location. Excavations indicated no prior occupation on the site prior to 1885. Most archaeological features were in the eastern portion of the site, and these were excavated. However, as only the footprint of the new building was excavated, some archaeological evidence may still be intact. See Appendix B for existing site record.
